BUSINESS IMPACT ANALYSIS OF FLYZY

Flyzy, a software airline company specializing in travel management solutions, underwent a comprehensive business impact analysis to evaluate the potential effects of various disruptive events on its operations.

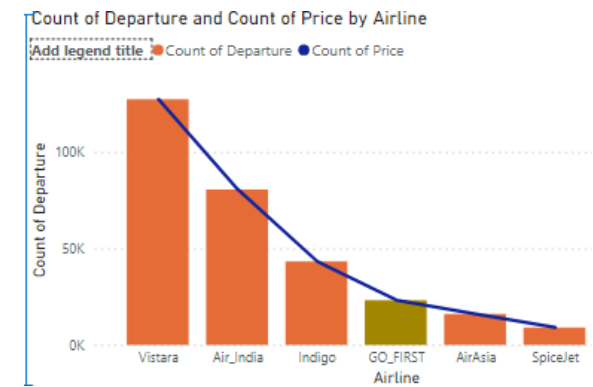

INTRODUCTION

FLYZY developed an AI and IoT-driven platform that enhanced the air travel experience for three qualifying airlines. This project significantly improved customer satisfaction and operational efficiency for these airlines, leading to increased revenue and a competitive edge in the travel industry.

OVERVIEW

Using my Power BI skills, I analyzed Flyzy's data to evaluate the business impact of their project. Initially, only three airlines qualified, but through comprehensive data analysis and visualization using Power BI, we identified key trends and insights that enabled Flyzy to enhance their service offerings and make data-driven decisions, significantly improving operational efficiency and customer satisfaction.

Qualifying Airlines

Key Findings

conclusions

it seems that Vistara emerges as the qualifying airline. This conclusion likely arises from a comprehensive assessment of various factors such as market share, revenue generation, operational efficiency, customer satisfaction, and strategic alliances. Vistara's performance in these areas likely positions it as the preferred choice within the context of the Flyzy project. The specific details and metrics supporting this conclusion would need to be outlined in the project documentation.
